First Companies completes construction of second West Michigan Dermatology location in Grandville

Practice's main office moves to former Kobe restaurant near Rivertown Crossings

June 3, 2019 – Grand Rapids, Mich.

First Companies announced today the company has completed construction of a second office for West Michigan Dermatology located at 3434 Rivertown Point Court in Grandville. This project included a complete interior demolition and remodel of the former Kobe Japanese Steakhouse near Rivertown Crossings, with 3,000 square feet added to meet the growing needs of the practice's local patient base.

"After the completion of their Holland office, we were honored that First Companies was again selected by West Michigan Dermatology to construct their new Grandville location," said Matt Sink, Chief Operating Officer, First Companies. "Taking a former restaurant, completely redesigning and renovating the space, and adding 3,000 square feet was a challenge, but the entire team came together to fulfill the vision West Michigan Dermatology had to serve their local patients and growing practice."

"We're grateful to be part of the West Michigan community. Working with First Companies, we created two locations – in Holland and Grandville – that enable us to serve a wide range of dermatology needs in the best way possible," said Toni Van Wesep, Practice Administrator.

Having served the Grandville area for the past 10 years, the partners determined more space was needed to increase their service offerings and to move their company administrative staff under the same roof. Now open for business, the Grandville location offers Mohs surgery for skin cancer removal with a private waiting area for surgical patients. The doctors also have a pathology diagnostic lab inhouse to expedite patient test results. Additionally, the new office includes a cosmetic revitalizing center, providing a full range of aesthetic services. Plenty of parking right outside the front door adds to the convenience of this location.

R2 Design served as the architect for this 13,000 square foot renovation.
